MUCH ACTIVITY NOW MANIFEST CAMP ROYSTON

The showing on the lease being operated by F. Tabarico and Joe Tolo on the Hudson property at Royston, is said to be truly remarkable and a good tonnage of ore is being extracted that is expected to mill better than $400 a ton, with the first class product, which is being sacked, returning values running much higher.

These leasers are at work on the 300 level of the incline shaft workings, directly to the south of the station, and are stopping on a body of ore that shows both native and brittle silver, that has a width of nearly two and one-half feet. The showing is said to excel that of the Betts lease on the Golden Eagle claim, following the announcement of the discovery near surface five months ago, and although the ore vein is not of such magnitude, the values will make up the difference, coupled with the possibilities for persistency of the shoot. The ore lies between limestone and andesite walls, one of the best possible indications that it is of more than passing importance.

While quietness has prevailed for the last few weeks in the Royston district, due to the usual slump that follows in the wake of all new mining camps, many mining men believe that the camp is about due to take on a new lease of life, and that the coming summer will witness even greater activity than during the inception of the first discoveries that were announced last fall.

There are a number of leasers at work and all are optimistic concerning the future of the camp. Prospects are again giving the camp considerable attention, and mineral finds are being reported quite frequently.

AGE AND THE MODERN YOUTH

Attitude of the Youngsters is by No Means Necessarily a Mark of Disrespect.

When we find the children slipping away, excluding us from their pleasures, it's time to let them understand that we're far from being ready for the scrap heap.

The fact that children don't run to bring father's slippers as they used to, doesn't mean any lack of consideration for the parent who has worked hard all day to support his family. I prefer to think the passing of this custom indicates a hope in the young mind that father hasn't yet reached the slipped age, but still has a stomach not wholly satisfied with warmed-over cabbage.

Slippers are the symbol, the outward and visible sign of approaching senility. Father would be a lot better off if he forsook the old armchair and took the family to a vaudeville show or a movie. When my fifteen-year-old son looks in on me when I'm shaving and asks, cheerfully, "How's the hero feeling this morning?" I am flattered. He doesn't mean to be impudent; he is merely greeting me as though I were a comrade of his own age.

I should certainly forfeit his confidence in my sense of humor if I put down the razor to tell him that in my youth children showed their parents more respect. I tried that for a year or two and it didn't work. My past is nothing to him; he finds the world as it is sufficient for all purposes, and if he can have the car this afternoon he'll be very much obliged!"—Meredith Nicholson in Harper's Magazine.

DOMINANT STYLES

The tuxedo and the slip-on are the two dominating styles in sweaters each of them made in many variations of color, weave and material. A handsome tuxedo, knitted of wool yarn, appears above in a sweater that reveals the effective use of a fancy weave in the body of the garment and the employment of contrasting color.
